

Jason Allen
North Carolina State University
Department of Sociology and Anthropology
1911 Building, Room 328
Raleigh, NC, 27695
Jsallen8@ncsu.edu
413-219-0522

Education

North Carolina State University — Ph.D. Sociology, 2014 to present

North Carolina State University—M.S. Sociology, in progress: “The Treadmill of Production and Coastal Environmental Concerns: Structural Selectivity and North Carolina’s Coastal Resource Commission.”

University of Massachusetts-Amherst—B.A. cum laude. Social Thought and Political Economy (STPEC), 2012

Employment

North Carolina State University—Teaching Assistant, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, 2014-present

North Carolina State University—Online grader, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, summer 2015, summer 2016

Areas of Interest

Environmental Sociology, Political Sociology, Marxist Theory, Sustainable Development

Scholarly Presentations

Allen, Jason S. and Stefano B. Longo. “The Treadmill of Production and Coastal Environmental Concerns: The Structural Selectivity of North Carolina's Coastal Resource Commission.” Presented at 79th Annual Southern Sociological Society Meetings, April 14, 2016.

Online Publications

Allen, Jason and Andrew Smolski. 2016. “Let Them Drink Salt Water.” New Politics, February, 24. <http://newpol.org/content/let-them-drink-salt-water>

Awards

North Carolina State University—2014 Graduate Fellowship